

WESLEYAN ELEVEN IS BADLY CRIPPLED

Seven Members of the Varsity Squad Are on the Hospital List.

BUCKHANNON, Oct. 25.—Seven men still remain on Wesleyan's list of cripples from the varsity squad alone and a number in addition on the reserve squad.

Taylor, the big right tackle, had a small flesh wound on his ankle which became infected and as a result he is unable to walk at the present time, his meals being served to him in his room. Clark, the other tackle, has had a very strenuous time with an infection in his nose and around his teeth, that has kept him out of practice work for ten days and may keep him out ten days longer. Harris, who has been out since the Washington and Jefferson game, has been sent to Pittsburgh to consult a specialist regarding what he thinks is a displaced vertebrae. Vance is still on crutches with his injured knee and probably will be for another week.

Wagner is just recovering from his broken nose and may be able to go in against Westminster Saturday. Jacobs has been having a great deal of trouble with his eyes and is now in Baltimore consulting a specialist in regard to them, while Shumaker has been laid up with a recurrence of his old trouble with his ribs, an injury that he received in 1914.

Except for Wagner and Shumaker it is unlikely that any of the men named above will go into the Westminster game Saturday, but even when these huskies are laid up there remain three good ends in Bradley, Morrison and Blake; two good tackles in Roberts and Allen; four guards in Tschappat, Wagner, Curtis and Henryetta; a center in Neale; two quarterbacks in Captain Miller and Fisher; two fullbacks in Calae and Resseger; and four fine half-backs in Beck, Ross, Glenn and Meredith. Injuries to any of the last named would hurt the team's efficiency, but with these men all in good shape no fear is felt for Saturday's result.

PROGRESSIVE LEADERS COME OUT FOR HUGHES

Not in a Negative Way but with All Their Heart, Mind and Soul.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Henry F. Cochems, Progressive national committee chairman from Wisconsin, called on Chairman Wilcox at the Republican national committee headquarters Tuesday and announced himself for Hughes. Mr. Cochems attended the meeting of the Progressive national committee at Chicago on June 26 and joined with John M. Parker, Matthew Hale, Bainbridge Colby and the others who opposed the action taken by the committee in adopting a resolution endorsing the course of Governor Roosevelt in supporting Governor Hughes.

"I am for Hughes for president," said Mr. Cochems Tuesday. "I am affirmatively for him." This expression is to distinguish my position in the campaign from that of a number of Progressive state chairmen, committee men and others conspicuous in the Progressive party who have declared themselves for Mr. Wilson. They are negatively for Mr. Wilson. Nothing has occurred since the dissolution of the Progressive party to change the position of these gentlemen toward Mr. Wilson. At that time they were furiously in rebellion against the conduct of his administration. I have gone through the same mental ordeal of protest and rebellion against events in Chicago with the same temptation to engage in a vendetta against some of the leaders of the Progressive party in their convention whose actions I disapproved. These excellent gentlemen I know from close intercourse since that convention have declared themselves for Mr. Wilson, not because they approve of him, his party or his principles. They have made their judgment out of resentment. Their rebellion has taken them to an inhospitable party home. They are not and will not be comfortable there. No progressive measure has been passed since the Progressive convention by the Wilson administration save two, first, the provision in the revenue bill for a tariff commission; second, the provision of a national child labor law. Both of these are eleven hour recantations and both are shams. The first act of the administration was to abolish the tariff board, to ridicule it and its functions as an invasion of the constitutional right of Congress. Nothing has changed the heart or convictions of a Congress controlled in both branches by a southern Democratic caucus, nothing except an insincere measure of penitence shrewdly offered as a bait to credulous Progressives.

"Mr. Wilson, in his book on 'Constitutional Government of the United States,' vigorously assailed Mr. Beveridge and a proposed national child labor law upon the ground that it was invasion of the rights of the states, 'an absurd extravagance,' and an assault upon the federal constitution. A southern controlled Congress passed this bill, a Congress drawn in its controlled majority from states which have passed no social justice legislation, from states in which the conditions of child and woman labor—or labor generally—is the most outrageous in the union. Mr. Wilson's re-election means a southern caucus-controlled House and Senate, a sure foreclosure of the realization of hopes dear to the hearts of Progressives—the very ark of their covenant."

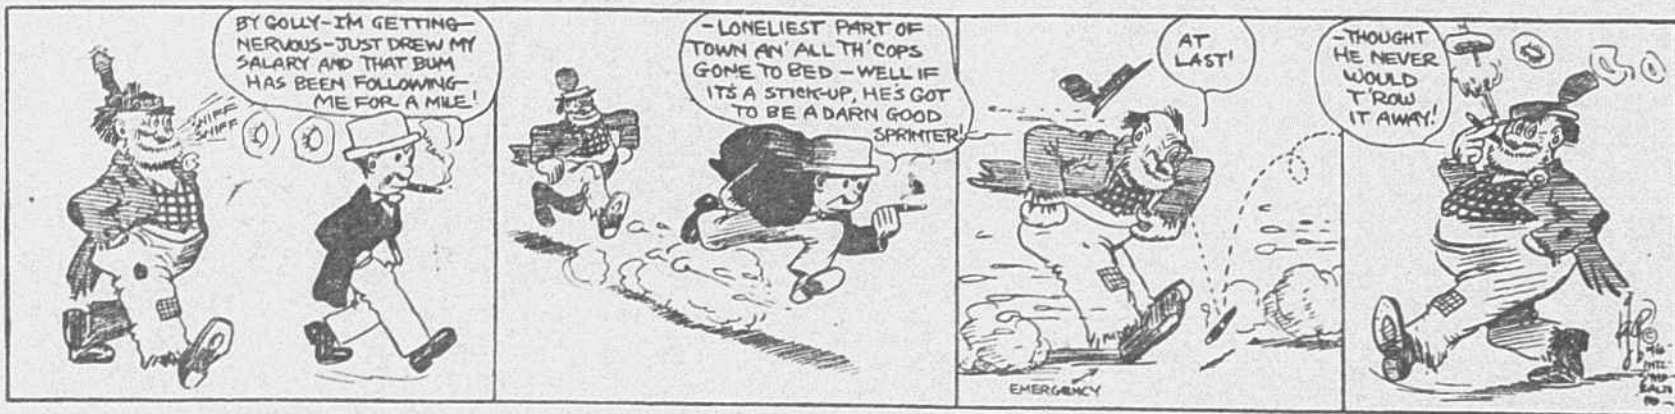

"I am for Mr. Hughes because his strong personality and square-jawed firmness insure progressivism in our international affairs and a two-eyed vision—a humanitarian vision and treatment of our foreign relations, because he is a deer of things not a dialectician."

O. H. P. Shelley, Progressive national committee man for Montana, and Austin B. Griffiths, Progressive national committee man for Washington, who also acted with Parker,

DUKE OF ORLEANS WILL ASK THE POPE TO ANNUL MARRIAGE

Duke and Duchess of Orleans.

According to authoritative reports the Duke of Orleans, pretender to the throne of France, is about to apply to the court of Rome for an annulment of his marriage to the Archduchess Marie Dorothea of Austria. The duke contends that the marriage was not concluded with all the requirements of ecclesiastical law. The duchess won an action for separation in January, 1914.

At the outbreak of the war the duke in sending back the insignia of the Golden Fleece to the Austrian emperor wrote that the marriage had been the curse of his life.

Hale and Colby at the Chicago meeting, have recently declared for Hughes and are now working for his election.

Keeping Yourself Well

HOW YOU GET SICK

Sometimes you overload your stomach with rich foods. Your life may be an active one, and thus you may care for all you eat. But a few days of inactivity show your system does not call for so much. You wake in the morning tired. Your body feels heavy; you know you are not up to the mark. Your digestion has not cared for the overload. Part of it remains. It generates gas that inflames the delicate lining. They fail to pour out the digestive fluids and neglect to absorb the life-giving elements. You know something is wrong. Your body gets weak, and soon opportunity is offered for some severe illness.

Taken in time, the indigestion would not become serious. First remove the overload; then soothe the sore membranes; then build up the weakened body. It's simple to say, but not too easy to do. You need help. A tonic that will quicken digestion, help remove waste, soothe the soreness and arouse the system—that's just what you need.

Peruna has an enviable record in this respect. It has aided many thousands in the last century to overcome such conditions, and thereby prevent serious sickness. The tablet form is convenient for regular administration.

West Virginia Briefs

MOUNDSVILLE: Customs brought with them by the trainloads of negroes who have been transported from South Carolina and Georgia to keep big industrial plants running are the source of great curiosity among people here. Residents are witnessing the unusual spectacle of negroes walking out into the street to get out of the way of white men strolling along the sidewalk. The newcomers also remove their caps in the presence of white men.

MARTINSBURG: The biggest consignment of honey ever shipped out of the eastern panhandle has just been loaded at Bunker Hill by Oscar See, a jobbing grocer of this city. The total amount was 11,000 pounds and its value about $1,400.

PARKERSBURG: Unusual success is attending the night sessions of the Parkersburg high school, which have just been started as an experiment. Nearly 400 pupils have enrolled many of them being foreigners or children of foreigners who are taking the course in English.

MORGANTOWN: City council has appointed Stephen Davis to the position of police chief made vacant by the resignation of Carl Beebe.

WHEELING: A series of twelve institutes for Bible study and community uplift in the principal cities of the state is announced by the West Virginia State Sunday School Association. Three day sessions will be held in the following cities: Moundsville, Grafton, November 12, 13 and 14; Elkins, Weston, and Sutton, November 15, 16, and 17; Huntington, Point Pleasant and Parkersburg, November 19, 20 and 21; Wellsburg, Wheeling and Clarksburg, November 22, 23 and 24. The speakers include Dr. Frank N. Palmer, C. W. Shinn, Mrs. George H. Geyer, Alfred Day, the Rev. J. J. River, Mrs. Mary Foster Byner and Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Snow.

CHARLESTON: Certificates of incorporation have been issued by the secretary of state to the following new concerns which will operate under the laws of West Virginia: Hazlett and Rodman, of Wheeling, investment brokers, authorized capital, $150,000; incorporators, Edward Hazlett, Henry Hazlett, Samuel Rodman, Ambrose S. List and Robert H. Hazlett, all of Wheeling. The Edgewood Coal Company of Ashland, Chief Pike county, Ky.; authorized capital, $500,000; incorporators, R. B. Parker of Syracuse, N. Y.; W. W. Stevenson, D. H. Putnam, P. K. Mlin and G. H. Gray, of Ashland. The West Virginia Investment Company of Charleston; authorized capital, $25,000; will deal in coal and timber lands; incorporators, W. B. Koonitz, O. O. Oiler, J. M. Clark, John M. Henderson, all of Charleston.

WHEELING: With a view to reducing the cost of living by creating a better relation between the farmer and business man, Dr. Andrew Wilson of the Wheeling Commercial Association has called a meeting of farmers and business men here the middle of November. Fully 1,000 will attend.

CHARLESTON: Samuel McCausland, of Mason county, son of Gen. John C. McCausland, a famous Confederate officer during the Civil war, has presented a petition to the supreme court of appeals of West Virginia from a verdict of the circuit court of Mason county, finding him guilty of manslaughter for the killing of George Jeffers, a laborer on the McCausland farm, last summer. A writ of error was sought.

CHARLESTON: Mrs. Mary Patterson, a widow, was instantly killed here on the bridge which crosses the Kanawha river. She was returning from church at night with her sister and some friends. While trying to escape being struck by one train she stepped in front of another.

FOILS SUN

Harvard Man Invents Novel Device and Gets His Beauty Sleep Daily.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 25.—Every morning at 7 o'clock Henry R. Guild, of Boston, a Harvard senior, rolls over in bed. Seven o'clock is too early for a senior to get up, so Mr. Guild presses a button and the shade at the distant end of his chamber rolls down as if by magic.

No rising sun is going to make him leave his bed unseasonably. Some morning he may miss a four-alarm fire by pressing the button, but he's willing to take the chance, he asserts. Getting up at 7 a. m. is high crime at Harvard, the same as admitting Yale has a good football team this year.

Henry Guild framed up a motor, attached to the curtain string and laid wires to his bedside. When the sun throws its rays into his bedroom every morning, weather permitting, he presses a button and the curtain flops faster than in a vaudeville theater.

Mr. Guild's next invention probably will be a trapdoor to throw tiresome professors into the cellar by means of a button that any student can press. Life's attendant inconveniences aren't going to bother him while electricity can do the work.

An artificial horn, having its elasticity, strength and insulating qualities, is being made in Germany from hides, chemically treated.

San Felice Standard to Be Maintained, Say Makers

All Dealers Now Sell Famous Cigars at 5c Straight. In Effect Today.

Owing to the greatly increased cost of quality tobaccos, in fact everything pertaining to high grade cigars, the makers of the San Felice cigar, The Dessel-Wemmer Company, have advanced the selling price to the jobbers and Dealers, and henceforth this cigar will positively be sold to the consumer at 5 cents straight instead of six for a quarter as previously.

The SAN FELICE is national in its scope and character, having just attained this eminence through its unexcelled excellence. To maintain this unequalled standard of quality, the advance in question is absolutely unavoidable. The generous support of all men using quality cigars is earnestly desired.

Some "investments" offer little chance of the investor getting his money back. Even with legitimate investments it is often hard to get your money back quickly. While you may not often feel like drawing upon your savings in the bank, it is quite a comfortable feeling to know that you can get at your money quickly in case of need.
